OXFORD PATTERN

9 1/4" DINNER PLATE

CUP AND SAUCER

FROM England, the home of fine china — Spode, Wedgwood and many other famous makes— comes the name Corning has chosen for its newest pattern in Chinex, the dramatic new dinnerware material. “Oxford” it has been christened and in every way it is typical of its tradition. Quiet and restrained, simple of line, yet with a richness of color and a confident dignity that spells good taste, the Oxford is a notable member of the Chinex line.

Modest in its bearing, Oxford dinnerware is modest in its price. Stronger than china, it is equally beautiful. Moreover it is non-porous. It does not “craze” and it is less subject to chipping. Washes very easily.

The “Oxford” will appeal particularly to women who like to set an especially attractive table. Created by a foremost American designer, this pattern harmonizes perfectly both with white and colored linens. It never clashes with floral centerpieces or glassware, but blends perfectly in the most formal or informal table setting.

AVAILABLE in separate pieces—cup, saucer and  $9\frac{1}{4}$ " dinner plate—the Oxford is also presented as an 18-piece Dinner Set (Assortment 597 consisting of six cups, six saucers and six dinner plates).

Every housewife will want a set of Oxford for first or second best. Its popular ivory color and its rich beauty will attract. Its low price will astonish. And its obvious utility will complete its triple sales appeal.

Pieces and sets are securely packed with exceptional care to withstand handling and facilitate safe delivery. By the makers of the famous "Pyrex" Ware—Corning Glass Works.

THE CLASSIC PATTERN

Corning now presents

Chinex Dinnerware in CLASSIC; Classic in its rich design; Classic in its fineness of line; Classic in its lightness and grace — CLASSIC is another superb pattern in a revolutionary new dinnerware.

Combining all the beauty of fine china with extra strength and low cost, this new material has found instant response with the housewives of America. They like its appearance. They like its "feel." They like the ease with which it washes and the fact that it is non-porous through and through. It will not "craze" and is hard to chip.

Those are just a few of the reasons Chinex has achieved such sensational success. And this new deluxe pattern CLASSIC is destined to add to its selling records. Conceived by one of America's most famous designers, it is striking in its grace and beauty. Its rich ivory tint is today's most popular color in dinnerware. It blends with all table settings. Its smartness and "good taste" permit its use for both semi-formal or informal occasions. Never before in a single pattern has such a combination of beauty, utility and value been achieved.

Make it your style leader . . . offer it as a dinner service for home use or for gift purposes. Take advantage of this "Classic" opportunity.
